County Rd. Expansion Plans Told by Cities

Plans to enlarge County Road 1, a secondary highway which would run from Burlingame Ave. to Whipple Ave. in Redwood City, were discussed this week by representatives of the Belmont, San Carlos, Redwood City and San Mateo County Planning Commissions.

The meeting, held at the Belmont city hall, was the second joint meeting of the commissions. The group decided to take up the plans prepared by Frank Skillman, secretary of the county planning commission, with their respective commissions for tentative approval and then appear before the county board of supervisors.

Lawrence Brian, Belmont city engineer, estimated that the project for nine miles of highway could cost from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 depending upon the extent of the improvements. He said the first thing needed was $100,000 or $150,000 to pay for preliminary engineering work.

The commissioners agreed to ask their respective city councils for a portion of the money for the engineering work and then to ask the supervisors for the remainder.

Agreement was reached that the project should be done as one large job rather than leave each city to take care of its own portion of the project. John Erano, chairman of the Belmont Planning Commission, proposed that the cities agree to turn the job over to the county or someone else.

Erano said the cities should not make the same mistake they did when planning for the expansion of the Alameda de las Pulgas a number of years ago and left the improvements up to each city.

Three months ago the planning commissions of San Mateo, Belmont, San Carlos and Redwood City met and asked Skillman to draw up preliminary plans for the County Rd. project.

According to Skillman's plan, the road would start at Whipple Ave. and continue on approximately its same course to Bay Meadows race track in San Mateo. A new road would be cut through the Bay Meadows property and run north, east of the railroad tracks to East 16th Ave. where two alternate roads are proposed.

The first would follow Claremont St. in San Mateo and cross to San Mateo Drive in Burlingame at State St. The alternate route would follow roughly what is now Railroad Ave. in San Mateo and Burlingame to Burlingame Ave. where it would cross over to San Mateo Dr.

Erano said he had talked the project over with Supervisor Alvin Hatch who suggested that the job could be paid for by an overall county road tax. Erano said that a few cents per $100 assessed valuation could take care of such work as the County Rd. project.

Paul McCarthy, Belmont city attorney, said that the county had a road tax at one time but that it was stopped in 1932 and has not been reinstated. He said such a tax, if the cities were brought within it, could bring in

Donald O'Connor to Judge Queen At Coronation Ball on Saturday

Donald O'Connor, young Universal Studios star, will be one of the judges tomorrow night at the Coronation Ball who will select the queen of the 1949 Redwood City Rodeo.

The other judge will be Frank Westmore, makeup artist for the same studio. Both men are expected to arrive in Redwood City tomorrow and will be guests of the Peninsula Celebrations Assn.

Seven girls are competing for the title of queen, and the winner will receive a new automobile, lead the Fourth of July parade, and will reign at the four-day celebration starting July 1.

Robert Spillers, co-chairman of the queen contest committee, announced today that arrangements have been made with the Alisal Ranch in the Santa Ynez Valley near Santa Barbara, for a two-day stay for the runnerup for queen and her guest.

Lynn S. Gillham, manager of the resort, explained that the vacation for the queen runnerup and her feminine companion would include room with private bath, meals, horseback riding, swimming, and other recreational facilities on the 10,500-acre ranch.

O'Connor will interrupt work on a picture he is now completing in order to make his appearance in Redwood City.

The Hollywood pair will participate in the Coronation Ball, slated for 9 p.m. today, at the Millard Bldg., Charter St. and Broadway.

Jack Wallace, who is handling arrangements for the dance for the sponsoring 20-30 Club, explained the dance was being held in this 10,000 square-foot structure in order to handle an expected crowd of nearly 1000 persons.

Don Churchill's "Texas Mavericks" will provide the musical background for the show.

Wallace explained that giant searchlights would lead the way to the ball tomorrow for those unfamiliar with the lower Broadway district.

He said that William Ellerman, San Mateo radio broadcaster, would serve as master of ceremonies and would introduce the celebrities.

Local amateurs are offered the opportunity to parade their talent in the amateur show to be held July 4 in conjunction with the Redwood City Rodeo.

Amateur singers, dancers and entertainers will perform at the dance pavilion on the rodeo grounds at 6 p.m. There will be a full two hours of the amateur show with cash prizes going to the first and second place winners in three age groups.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the Tribune office or from LeRoy Jordan, 875 Main St., Emerson 6-9511 or Emerson 6-3242.

All are eligible to enter the show, according to Jordan. Amateurs can enter in their respective age group: 1 to 7, 8 through 13 and age 14 and up.

The finals winners will be selected by the audience.

Amateurs wishing to appear in the show must have secured application blanks and all contestants must furnish their own music if they wish accompaniment.

Contestants are requested to report to the dance pavilion one-half hour before show time.

More than 700 seats to the show will be available and admission to the talent show will be 10 cents.

There are more than 100 children between the ages of 2 and 10 in the Redwood City Child Care Center at McKinley School. They are children of working mothers or of working fathers in cases where the mother is not alive.

The center is limited to children whose parents come within certain income brackets, except for children of women teachers and nurses, whose services the state feels still are needed. The parents pay according to their income.

The center is open from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Each child is checked every morning by a nurse and an educational program is followed. Rest and nap periods are provided.

Mrs. Ruth S. Howarth is director of the center here.

The new law requires that payments be made in December and June of each fiscal year, with the result that for the year 1949-50 counties and cities will get a payment in July, 1949, together with payments in December, 1949, and June, 1950.

Local Amateurs Get Chance At Rodeo Program, July 4

Pair Drowns On Coastside Over Weekend

Ocean waters on San Mateo County's Coastside claimed two drowning victims during the weekend and gave up the body of a third.

Harry W. Svirbely, 41, San Francisco welder, drowned at Montara Beach Sunday.

Andrew Holland, 66, retired San Francisco postman, drowned nearby at Dunes Beach, two miles north of Half Moon Bay, Saturday afternoon.

And the body of Herbert E. Wahaus, 55, San Leandro, who drowned a week ago Sunday, was recovered from the surf near Rockaway Beach Saturday.

Svirbely, according to Dep. Sheriff Don Hartnett, swam out too far and was unable to make his way back to shore.

John Eberle, 28, 2209 Hale Dr., Burlingame, a member of the picnic party Svirbely was attending, swam out and tried to tow him back to shore. But he was forced to let Svirbely go in order to prevent himself from drowning.

Mr. Svirbely was a civilian worker at Hunters Point Naval Shipyard. Surviving are two sisters and a brother, all of San Francisco.

Holland drowned Saturday afternoon when a wave knocked him over while he was wading in shallow water.

Three young East Bay men pulled him onto the beach and attempted to revive him. The Half Moon Bay Fire Dept. inhalator squad worked over him for two hours—unsuccessfully.

Wahaus' body was floated ashore near Rockaway Beach. He had been swept from Saddle Rock, his fishing perch, by a wave on June 12.

Several colorful comic units will be in the parade and there will be numerous floats sponsored by local civic and cultural organizations.

Several Santa Cruz units will march in the parade and there will also be units from cities of the San Francisco Bay Area.

Victim Turns Turtle ... Good Samaritan Stuck

Frank Santini of Princeton on San Mateo County's Coastside tried to do a good turn Monday. It cost him $48.

Santini told deputy sheriffs he stopped to help an automobile accident "victim" on Coast Hwy. near Pedro Mtn. and got held up for his pains.

He was driving along, said Santini, when he saw a car parked at the edge of the highway. A man was lying on the road in front of the automobile—apparently in great agony.

Santini braked to a stop. A man jumped out of the other car. "Give me a hand," said the man. "I've just hit this guy."

Santini bent over the prostrate form. He felt something cold and hard protrude from his back.

He turned around and found himself looking down the barrel of a revolver.

Two more men piled out of the car. Santini was told to hand over his wallet. He did. The men extracted the contents—$48—and then told Santini to drive on.

As he pulled away in his car, Santini saw the "victim" get up from the road and carefully dust himself off.

she added, "is—what you would do if you knew absolutely that you would not be found out."

She stressed the importance of discipline, training children in good manners and cleanliness.

She criticized the modern mother seeking jobs she doesn't need and hiring other people to take care of her young children.

"Children must have an appreciation of the good things of life from the mother—because the father is too busy."

Parents are more interested in their daughters becoming socially desirable than anything else—so they can marry them off as soon as possible, Dr. Templin declared.

She condemned the practice of teaching girls to be drum majorettes. "This kind of hip shaking in public is nothing but cheap exhibitionism."

"Parents are paying for education not vacation—but they love their children so much they want to protect them and give them every advantage. You can't build character that way," Dr. Templin declared.

"It's the Santa Claus attitude for parents which makes it difficult for educators—they expect the schools to give the children an education, and in reality they get only what they earn."

She cited the lack of home and school religious training as one cause of rising juvenile delinquency. She concluded her talk with a list of three things which parents must do:

1. They must take an active interest in education.

2. They must discipline their children to provide character.

3. They must instill into their children respect for authority, for other people's property, and for older persons.

GOOD GAG ANYHOW — This oldtime stagecoach which formerly traveled the route from Pescadero to Redwood City and which has been kept on exhibit for many years, was reported stolen this week from its parking place at the Redwood City Rodeo Grounds. Police, however, branded the "disappearance" a hoax. Care Center Bill Wins Assembly OK

Hopes for continuation of the Redwood City Child Care Center and other child care centers all through the state were given Tuesday with a special appropriation bill reaching the halfway mark in the legislature.

The assembly passed, 60 to 7, and sent to the senate a bill appropriating $5,848,500 for some 300 child care centers with an enrollment of about 14,000 children. It previously agreed to continue the centers another year. Otherwise, state sponsorship will end June 30.

There are more than 100 children between the ages of 2 and 10 in the Redwood City Child Care Center at McKinley School. They are children of working mothers or of working fathers in cases where the mother is not alive.

County Gets 'In Lieu' Tax Dividend

"Extra dividend" of $153,491 is due San Mateo County for 1949-50 out of state-collected motor vehicle "in lieu" taxes, because of a change in state law signed by the governor on May 13, California Taxpayers' Assn. said today. Redwood City is slated to receive $28,868.

Estimates by the state controller of payments to the county from the "in lieu" tax of $291,341 made on April 13 were revised to $444,832 on May 31.

Cities also will get an "unusually large apportionment" from "in lieu" tax revenues for 1949-50. Effect of the change in state law on the cities in the county is as follows:

April 13 May 31 Inc. In Revenues

Atherton $ 3,243 $ 12,707 $ 9,464

Belmont 10,309 15,588 5,279

The April 13 estimates were based on provisions of the law calling for payments from the state-collected motor vehicle "in lieu" tax to the cities and counties in July and December of each fiscal year. The "in lieu" tax is the ad valorem tax on motor vehicles paid at the time licenses are secured.

The new law requires that payments be made in December and June of each fiscal year, with the result that for the year 1949-50 counties and cities will get a payment in July, 1949, together with payments in December, 1949, and June, 1950.

Peninsula Homes for Americans

TRIBUNE PHOTO

BY BUD SPRUNGER

Leslie K. Lewis of San Carlos designed and built today's Tribune Peninsula home for Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tresidder at 800 Hobart St. in Menlo Park.

The 1215 square foot house was constructed on a lot which was 70 feet wide and 155 feet deep.

A full tile treatment was given the bath and kitchen. Although some designers maintain that tile isn't all it's cracked up to be for those purposes, Lewis says that most women want it and he's ready to furnish it for them. The big advantage to tile, of course, is that it is easy to keep clean.

A wardrobe closet in one of the bedrooms has a sliding door arrangement which has become very popular during the last few years. A wide, not too deep closet is constructed and equipped with sliding doors. A woman can then hang a lot of dresses in it and because of the doors get at any one without wading around in a dark closet.

The tile in the kitchen was placed behind the stove to make cleaning there easy. The kitchen was also equipped with an electrical suction fan to carry out racy cooking odors.

Rear windows in the living room and in the den look out onto a roofed over patio which has a three and a half inch concrete floor. The patio can be reached either from the living room or from the dinette.

There is a corner fireplace in the living room.

War Recounted ... Physically

The recent war in the South Pacific was rehearsed again last week, this time without the music and lyrics that Mary Martin and Ezio Pinza are making famous.

Hostilities broke out at the Brass Door, a Linden St. gathering place in Redwood City. According to a police report, Frank M. Martin, 257 Arlington Rd., was in the Brass Door and entered into a discussion of the actions against the Japanese in the South Pacific theater of operations.

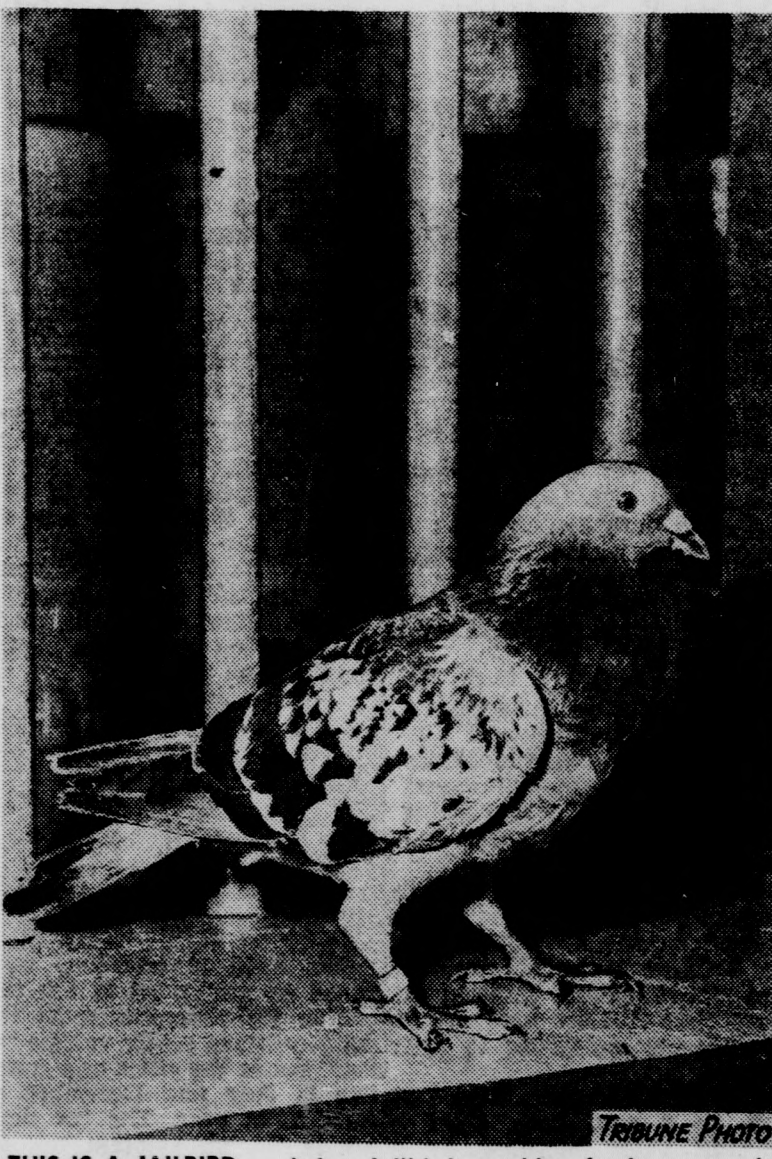

At about 11:55 p.m. statesmanship failed, the ambassadors were called home and fighting broke out. Martin's glasses were broken in his eye, which, fortunately, was not damaged.

Police took out a warrant for the arrest of Raymond L. Bowditch, Moffett Field, a sailor who seems to be somewhat of an expert on the South Pacific.

Youth Injured In Scooter Wreck

Bill Cessario, 13, 266 Alberta St., San Carlos, was injured this week when his motor scooter turned over at 3:35 p.m. on Somerset St. at Arlington Rd. in Redwood City.

Cessario, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cessario, was first taken to Redwood City Clinic and then to Palo Alto Hospital.

Sprinkler Bids Called by RC

Bids for the installation of a sprinkling system at Community Park have been called for by Redwood City.

The bids, to be opened July 1 at 11 a.m., call for the installation of pipe and sprinkler heads which will be used to turf a baseball diamond there. The city council will award a contract for the job to the person or firm which offers to do the work for the least money.

SSF Presents New Entry In Bay Economy Home Field

California's newest entry in the economy home field was opened for public inspection this week in South San Francisco as business and civic officials dedicated the Sterling Terrace subdivision developed and built by the Sterling Building Co.

The tract will consist entirely of three-bedroom ranch style homes selling at an average price of $8650. Its builders have announced financing plans which will enable veterans to purchase for $480 down and non-veterans to buy for $1155 down. Down payments include all closing charges. Monthly payments, it was announced, will average $54.25 including principal, interest, taxes and insurance.

The homes, shown today, are in six basic styles and are built on 50x100 foot lots. They feature concrete slab floor covered with asphalt tile. Exterior walls are redwood rustic and the roofs, of conventional low pitch, are composition shingled.

Interior living space is 950 square feet. Each house has a large living room with brick fireplace and oversize picture windows. Kitchens are equipped with metal cabinets, colored plastic work surfaces and built-in ironing boards.

Bathrooms have ceramic tile splash walls around the bathtub and copper piping is used throughout each home. Heating is provided by two wall furnaces with a 53,000 BTU output.

Bullock Estate Set at $128,211

The estate of Joseph J. Bullock of Atherton, former dean of San Mateo County attorneys, was valued at $128,211 in a completed inventory filed today in superior court here.

The inventory listed assets totaling $93,711 — including Mr. Bullock's $20,000 Atherton home, two lots in Redwood City and other property in San Carlos, San Mateo and Atherton, together with stocks, bonds and notes.

Previous partial inventories had listed property in Redwood City valued at $33,500 and a lot in South San Francisco valued at $1000.

Mr. Bullock died on March 24, 1948.

3 Persons Injured In Belmont Crash

Three persons suffered minor injuries this week in a head-on collision between two automobiles on Bayshore Hwy. near Belmont.

Iola Gibson, 55, Half Moon Bay, driver of one of the cars, was treated at Community Hospital for shock.

James H. Wertz, 37, San Jose, driver of the other automobile, suffered head cuts, and his wife, Eleanor, 28, was treated for nosebleed.

In another accident, on Coast Hwy. one mile south of Half Moon Bay yesterday, James R. Crinklaw, 24, San Francisco, was hurt when his car sideswiped another.

Crinklaw was treated by a Half Moon Bay physician.

Termites Will Just Have to Make Room For Storage of County-Owned Equipment

San Mateo County officials may decide to continue to use the old frame building at 703 Middlefield Rd., Redwood City, in spite of a report that "termites now are getting more good out of it than the county."

The building, present headquarters for the school department's curriculum division, was ordered vacated last week by the county board of supervisors—as unsafe.

But at a meeting Tuesday the supervisors decided to go slow. They still intend to move the school workers into a new store building at 533-537 Middlefield Rd., but they are considering using the frame building, county-owned, for storage of equipment.

Supervisor Alvin Hatch Tuesday said he could see no valid reason for tearing the building down unless it were absolutely necessary.

He suggested the board hold up any action until a report on its condition and reparability can be made by the county building inspector.

Meanwhile, Miss Pansy J. Abbott, superintendent of schools, told the supervisors she would need four store spaces in the new building instead of three as originally planned.

County Executive Frederick Peterson is negotiating a lease for the stores with the owner, Benedict Assenza of Menlo Park.

In other business yesterday the board took the following action:

1. Created the Scenic Heights Sanitation Dist. The district is located west of Redwood City—north of Cordilleras Creek, for the most part, and between Belle Roche Ave. and Alameda de las Pulgas. It is composed of a part of the Frances tract and the Scenic Heights Subdivision No. 1.

2. Authorized County Engineer M. A. Grant to enter into an agreement with Redwood City and to turn over to the city the North Fair Oaks outfall sewer system for use as an auxiliary city outfall, the change to be effected when North Fair Oaks sewers are hooked into the new treatment plant.

3. Sent to the child guidance clinic a letter from the district attorney's office advising the supervisors that it would be illegal to pay Dr. Paul Holmer of the clinic $293 for convention expenses. Maximum he could legally be paid would be $50. And, the letter noted, his trip to Chicago wasn't even authorized by the supervisors—as it should have been.

Boy Scout News

A Court of Honor to which parents were invited was held recently by Troop 162, Redwood City.

Chmn. Luther Gentry II introduced the following: John K. Rode, scoutmaster; Herbert Merrill, treasurer; H. O. Gunion, advancement; Herb Cunningham, O.D.M.; Art Compin, institutional representative of the sponsors, the North Fair Oaks Lions Club.

Dist. Advancement Chmn. Stanley Marcus conducted the Court of Honor and second class rank was conferred upon Marvin Compin, Douglas DeLaney, Theodore Rocewick, Luther Gentry III and Ronald Collingham.

Capt. Ed Wickstrom of the Menlo Fire Dist. awarded junior life saving certificates to 20 troop members.

A first aid demonstration was given by three patrols under the supervision of Lt. J. J. Duff of the Menlo Fire Dist. The Hawk Patrol won the contest and Scout knives were awarded to the winning boys.

A film was shown and Herbert Collingham, O.D.M., explained the camping planned for the troop this summer.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by the troop under the direction of Scoutmaster Rode and after the Court of Honor was closed, refreshments were served.

One of the outstanding events at the picnic held by Pack 54 of San Carlos in San Carlos Recreation Park recently was the presentation to Bill Schaffer of the Jackson Camera Award for outstanding achievement in Cubbing.

Supervising Den Mother Mrs. Ruth Hack and her assistant, Mrs. Lucille Creager, were presented with gifts of brass planters in appreciation of the work they have done for the Pack.

The food was prepared by the Cub mothers and a campfire was built around which the eating and the meeting which followed, centered. All but three of the Pack members were present with their parents and Den 1 won the parent attendance award with 100 per cent parents and Cubs present.

It was announced that Mrs. Ray Wintner will be supervising Den Mother for the coming year and Ray Wintner will continue as Cubmaster. Summer sessions will be conducted by the Pack to train Cubs who are Lions so they may receive their Webelos badges at the first Pack meeting in September, before going into Scouts.

The Court of Honor was presided over by Cubmaster Wintner who made the following awards:

Groups Witness Horse Show Event

The Zwierein Ranch at Woodside was the scene of a full-fledged horse show Tuesday staged for the benefit of the San Mateo County Mounted Patrol and the Exchange Clubs of the Peninsula. Ed Zwierein, past state president of the Exchange, was host and master of ceremonies for the annual event.

Four hundred and ten people were served at the barbecue which preceded the event, and another hundred or more gathered around the show ring for the 12-event show.

Show horses from nearby Woodside and Atherton stables dominated the events, although some stock came from Santa Clara and Marin Counties.

The events included hackneys, harness show ponies, three-gaited horses, western pairs, parade horses, stallions in hand, polo pony exhibition, quadrangle stake race, Tennessee walking horses, stock horses and hackamores, and finally a sack roping contest.

The stick should be floured lightly and the bark peeled from one end. Leave enough space between the spirals for the heat to reach all the dough. Hold over hot coals and bake, turning frequently until spirals are evenly browned.

YOUNGEST RODEO ENTRANT — One-year-old Shirley June Reynoso is the youngest cowgirl to enter the Redwood City Fourth of July Rodeo. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reynoso of 913 Lancaster Way, and has been riding a horse since she was five months old. She has won awards at the San Jose Rodeo, Butcher Town Rodeo in San Francisco, intercollegiate rodeo at the Cow Palace, and has shown before the Palo Alto Vaquero and San Mateo County Horseman's Assn. Her father is a rodeo clown and bull rider. Shirley displays one of the ribbons she has won since turning cowgirl.

Boy Scout Camp

Opens This Week

Peninsula Boy Scouts may still register for the second session of summer camp at the San Mateo County Boy

Scout Council's Camp Pomponio.

The camping period is from July 4 to July 18 and registrations will be accepted for a six or 14 day camping period. Fees are $2 per day plus a $1 registration fee.

There will be no transportation provided to the camp.

Three bus loads of scouts

ing period at Pomponio. The advanced guard worked last week readying the camp. Scouts will enjoy swimming, hiking and will take classes in handicraft, scoutcraft, nature lore, swimming and woodcraft.

Edward A. Barrer, scout executive, will supervise camp activities. He will be assisted by

Chet E. Wilson, assistant scout executive, Earl F. Schmidt Jr.,

and David C. Burton, scout field executives, and John Wren-

The Boy Scout offices will be closed on July 2, and the Tuesday evening office hours have been discontinued through the summer camping season, Barrer said today.

San Carlos Zoning

Hearing Postponed

A hearing on the zoning of the San Carlos industrial area was postponed until July 18 by the San Carlos Planning Commission

this week on the grounds that the hearing had not been properly called since not all property owners within the area had been notified.
